Far from typical and more than music, "Do You See What I See?" is a CELEBRATION of the GIFT of Down syndrome. The event will unforgettably share and showcase the talent, accomplishment, inspiration and smiles of Angels. The concert will feature Eric Genuis, a world-class pianist and composer. Mr. Genuis' own daughter, Anastasia, is an Angel. She has Down syndrome and has been inspirational in many of his recordings. Love for Anastasia penetrates his performances. Mr. Genuis will be joined by Louisville's own Byron Lukins and performances from a host of Angels. Through music, performance, pictures and personal stories, Angels will shine in the light they so genuinely deserve. And true to the individuals we celebrate, the concert will be uniquely powerful; a truly heart touching and life changing experience for both audience and Angels. "Do You See What I See?" promises to be a remarkable evening. Our Angels and the ones who love them so dearly will make certain of this. Join in the celebration.

Awareness is everything. Promoting the true and positive perception of Down syndrome is what this event is all about. Many people simply have limited or no exposure to Down syndrome. Their thoughts and ideas are based on a mountain of misconceptions. Our goal is to move people to look beyond the disguise. To see individuals with Down syndrome as the true Angels they are. The overwhelmingly positive influence these Angels have on families and communities is unquestionable. Anyone lucky enough to have a meaningful friendship with an individual with Down syndrome is necessarily better for it. One person, one family, and one community at a time this truth is evident. Their potential is limitless, their courage inspirational, their passion for love and life contagious, their smiles infectious. People need only to see and hear for themselves. Awareness leads to inspiration. Inspiration leads to positive and meaningful change. Please help us change hearts and minds. Invite your family. Invite your friends. Invite everyone you know. Use your email and social media contacts to help us make a difference. It is going to be a very special night. Your loved ones will thank you. So will Angels.

Spread The Word
